OVERVIEW OF STUDY TOUR PROGRAMS

HOW DOES IT WORK?

A group of Australian students are “led” to a destination by their faculty staff (teacher, administrator or both) and generally participate in workshops relevant to their course studies with a partner institution while being immersed in the culture. Students will also be exposed to industry developments and trends in another country, enabling them to create networks and gain an understanding of how global learning can impact their personal and vocational goals.

Study tours are typically short in duration (up to 4 weeks maximum) and might be linked to a major piece of assessment, unit/s of competency, or simply offered as an experiential option. Either way, study tours are designed as a structured learning program to enhance the student’s course outcomes.

Students will remain enrolled in their qualification and are required to cover additional costs associated with the study tour package. This may include, but not limited to: flights, accommodation, travel insurance, airport transfers, workshop tuition fees, and also meals and personal spending. Funding is available to help offset these costs.

Each study tour program is fully supported by TAFE Queensland Brisbane staff prior, during and after the study tour. Upon acceptance, students’ travel arrangements are taken care of such as: booking group flights, accommodation, securing travel insurance, and confirming program activities and the itinerary. Students will be supported through a series of mandatory pre-departure sessions by their study tour leader prior departure and will cover topics such as culture shock, travel health, and expectations. Support may also include mandatory language training for students travelling to Asian countries.

To learn more about what is required prior to departure, see our Pre-departure overview on page 17.

While overseas, the Study Tour Leader will ensure the program runs smoothly and also the academic, physical, and mental well-being of the students. The Study Tour Leader is responsible for managing the study tour while abroad, in collaboration with the partner institute overseas. Students will have access to all the partner institute’s student support services while participating in the study tour. Upon return, students will participate in a post-briefing session allowing the time for student’s to explore how the experience has impacted them.
To be eligible to participate in the TAFE Queensland Brisbane Study Abroad program, you will need to meet a number of requirements; please ensure that you:

NICK FORSYTH
DIPLOMA OF TRAVEL AND TOURISM
(INCORPORATING CERTIFICATE III IN TRAVEL)

“Together with the Diploma of Hospitality students, the university that we visited as part of the study tour to Switzerland - Ecole hôtelière de Lausanne - was the most prestigious school I have ever laid eyes on. Some of the workshops that we undertook focussed on International Business protocol and presenting yourself in an executive environment which has really helped with my professional development in my industry regarding job interviews, preparation and also my overall confidence. It was a once in a lifetime opportunity!”

KEELY FLETCHER
DIPLOMA OF VISUAL ARTS

“As a very young emerging artist visiting New York on a study tour, exposed to such a diverse environment, impacts you in very unexpected ways. Seeing first hand some of the most famous artworks in history like Monet or Klimt and drawing the city from the top of an iconic landmark such as the Empire State Building, moves and changes you as an artist. There is no better place to evolve as an artist and find yourself personally; as well as meeting local artists that can help further your career and connections too.”

STEVEN WATSON
DIPLOMA OF HOSPITALITY

“My experience living abroad in another country during my internship with Intercontinental hotel in Shanghai really helped me realise what is important and helped me find myself as a person. I believe that my international experience will also really help with starting my career in the hospitality industry and is something that I can never forget. The learning experiences were never ending, working inside of the hotel and being immersed in the culture.”

LOUISE REVILL
ADVANCED DIPLOMA OF APPLIED FASHION DESIGN AND TECHNOLOGY

“My internship in Tokyo was beneficial in so many ways. For me it was not only being able to work in the fashion industry internationally but also soaking up the history and culture that Japan has to offer. I’m currently working in fashion retail management and interning abroad has given me the inspiration to grow within the industry and apply the skills I’ve learnt to my day to day life. It was a trip of a lifetime!”

THE SCHWAN’S STUDY TOUR 2015 was a valuable achievement that has enhanced both my professional and personal development as a TAFE teacher.

This experience has enhanced my academic capability to lead study tours and recognise the positive impact that global educational programs have on our student’s lives.

Being part of this experience has brought me great insight to the skills and knowledge our students develop progressively throughout planning, monitoring and the implementation of the study tour brief. During post study tour debrief sessions, listening to the feedback from our students, that this experience was ‘life changing’ is a remarkable testimonial to how much the experience means to them personally.

During post study tour debrief sessions, listening to the feedback from our students, that this experience was ‘life changing’ is a remarkable testimonial to how much the experience means to them personally.

It is a honor for me, as a study tour leader, to reflect upon the contributions that we have made for students to gain this life changing outcome. The students feedback is treasured, and they validate the hard work and commitment of study tour leaders as we set our own goals and objects to ensure that our students gain the best educational benefits, and identify the excellence of industry standards.

It was wonderful to have been selected and involved in the Swiss study abroad program as study tour leader. Some of my students had been studying with me since year 11 during their ‘VET in schools’ tertiary years, progressively graduating in a Diploma of Travel and Tourism. These students work so hard to complete their studies, and with great enthusiasm and dedication they work towards setting goals. I am proud to say that our students have now achieved their goals, and the study tour has enhanced their passion to work within industry.

Overall, this educational and travel experience we all shared together, was a highlight to the end of their TAFE studies.

The 2015 Swiss study tour, was truly a rewarding chapter to add to our students developing life journey, and I am extremely grateful to have been part of their success.”

CHERYLEIGH LAZARUS
TRAVEL AND TOURISM TEACHER

It is a honor for me, as a study tour leader, to reflect upon the contributions that we have made for students to gain this life changing outcome. The students feedback is treasured, and they validate the hard work and commitment of study tour leaders as we set our own goals and objects to ensure that our students gain the best educational benefits, and identify the excellence of industry standards.

It was wonderful to have been selected and involved in the Swiss study abroad program as study tour leader. Some of my students had been studying with me since year 11 during their ‘VET in schools’ tertiary years, progressively graduating in a Diploma of Travel and Tourism. These students work so hard to complete their studies, and with great enthusiasm and dedication they work towards setting goals. I am proud to say that our students have now achieved their goals, and the study tour has enhanced their passion to work within industry.
