A night to celebrate creative greatness

TAFE Queensland Brisbane's premier creative industries event is just around the corner and promises to be packed with a diverse collection of free and interactive experiences, events and exhibitions showcasing the very best in local innovation, creation and imagination.

Cre8 Brisbane, to be held at South Bank on the evening of 6 November, is a 'don't miss' event for all aspiring creative talent, no matter what artistic avenue they want to pursue.

TAFE Queensland Brisbane Creative Director Carla Reading said the free three-hour event will feature everything from street art to cocktail making.

"Cre8 will celebrate our emerging creative talent as well as highlighting the success of some of the industry's stalwarts like singer/songwriter Mick Danby, who is also a TAFE Queensland Brisbane graduate and graphic designer Natala Stuetz," Carla explained.

"There will be plenty of theatrics for everyone including live music, pop-up galleries, a food lane, gaming zone and beauty bar.

"Our 'Day In The Life Of' speakers will give an up-close-and personal perspective of the creative industry, with three professionals discussing the realities of working in the areas of graphic design, photography and music."
