Bridge your skills gap for tertiary study

It's never too late to cross that bridge and do what you've always wanted to do with your working life.

For those who have a career in mind but are lacking the right qualifications to get them into higher study, the Certificate IV in Adult Tertiary Preparation (ATP) is designed to provide students with the skills and knowledge necessary to get to that level.

ATP graduate Rebecca Brady said gaining her Certificate IV was a new beginning.

"After a 16 year gap in my education, ATP provided me with a Year 12 study alternative and a tertiary rank so that I can pursue my dream of becoming a speech pathologist," she said.

"I could also fit ATP into my busy lifestyle as a mum of four and a carer to my husband."

Amongst other skills, the ATP program fosters lifelong learning, computer and technology proficiency, higher levels of literacy and numbers, analytical thinking and problem solving.

Information sessions will be held at Caboolture, South Bank and Loganlea this week.
