Popular plant sale grows grander this spring!

TAFE Queensland Brisbane's Grovely Plant Sale is just around the corner for the second time this year, but this time with a bit more fanfare for the horticultural hoards!

Not only will the public be able to do their usual purchasing of a wide range of plants at their customary bargain prices, an array of Saturday morning staples such as sizzling sausages and brewing coffee will be available for punters to refuel.

But it doesn't stop there for the nature enthusiasts who might be looking to 'dig up some dirt' on what TAFE Queensland Brisbane has to offer in the way of primary industries course.

"Our Grovely campus offers a variety of part-time and full-time horticulture and animal science," Primary Industries teacher Andrew Milner explained.

"There will be plenty of teachers and students at the plant sale to chat to about courses we have available, while you pick yourself up a plant and grab a coffee."

The day has proved to be extremely popular with locals, with the winter plant sale this year attracting hundreds of people from the immediate and wider Brisbane community.

"Whether you are a garden expert or just want a pot plant for your balcony, there is something to beautify every home," Andrew said.

"It's also a great way to get some face-to-face information about what careers you can pursue in the primary industries with our accredited courses."

The Grovely Plant Sale (horticulture and animal science) will be held this Saturday 8 November at our Grovely Nursery, Dawson Parade, Keperra from 9am-12noon.

Parking is available via Woking Street entrance. We accept payment by cash or EFTPOS.
